

Why Indian Market Falls and Opportunities

Friends, let me first tell you my opinion. Will the Indian stock market continue to fall? Will the stocks in your hands rise? This is the topic that everyone is most concerned about!

Let me first tell you my opinion. My opinion is that stocks will rise and NIFTY50 will be stable and will not fall! Why do I say that? Next, I will tell you my judgment and the reasons!

This is the Dow Jones Industrial Average, which has been rising for 5 consecutive days. Since Trump took office as the US President, the US stock market has risen rapidly. Last week, I told you a point of view that Trump will introduce a series of measures that are beneficial to the US economy. At present, the US stock market has also received real feedback!

But why is the Indian market still sluggish? This is the logical topic of the stock market that I will share with you next week, the problem of capital drive!

Not only our idle funds in India, but also the idle funds in the world will enter the US market to buy stocks and realize profits! It can be understood that the US stock market will continue to rise in the past 10 days, which will attract most of the idle funds in the world, including India. Without funds entering the Indian market, it is bound to fall! Is this the main reason for the sluggish market in India these days?

But will our Indian stock market continue to be depressed? My answer is: it will not continue to fall. My judgment is that after 10 days, the world's wealthy people will slowly return to their own stock markets after making profits in the United States. It can be understood that the current Indian wealthy people will slowly withdraw from the US stock market after making profits!

I hope that as long as everyone waits patiently for about 10 days, maintains a good attitude, and treats it normally, the income will slowly increase. This is my first judgment! I believe that the Indian market will continue the continuous rise of the previous 10 years

This is the Financial Times Index, also rising!

This is China's Shanghai Composite Index, which is also stabilizing and rising!

This is our Indian stock market NIFTY50 index, which is very weak and stocks are also falling. Why is this happening and what should we do next? Next, I will express my views and hope that you can keep them in mind.

At present, the global market, the United States, China, Britain, Japan and other countries have begun to rise, and stocks have also begun to rise. Why is the Indian market still falling? What is the reason? I explained the first point above, the problem of capital drive!

Next, I will explain the second question. Everyone must keep it confidential. I am worried that my remarks will offend some financial consortiums and damage their interests!

The reason why the Indian stock market continues to fail to rise is the conspiracy of bankers and consortiums. They deliberately do not invest funds, hoping to let us, the stockholders, sell our chips through a slow decline, and then these consortiums and bankers will buy chips at a lower price! We lose money, and these bankers make profits. Why did I find this logic? Next, let me tell you!

I appeal to everyone in the group. I regard you as friends and family. I hope you will be responsible for Hari Singh. My remarks today must be kept confidential before I continue to speak!

I mentioned above, why do I find that these dealers, consortiums, and funds are unwilling to enter the Indian stock market, but buy chips at low prices?

Do you know about QIB trading? It is the pre-market trading from 9 to 9:15 before the stock market opens every day. Because I do QIB with members of the investment alliance every day, I found that many institutional QIBs are competing with us to buy chips and suppress prices! What is the reason? This is that the Indian consortium does QIB in the early trading and buys chips at low prices. Ordinary accounts like us cannot trade QIBs, which is a disaster for ordinary retail investors!

2: At present, judging from the trading volume of stocks in the early trading, the highest stock trading volume is from 9 to 9:15 and from 15 to 15:30 in the afternoon. Why are the trading volumes in these two time periods the highest? It can only explain one point of view. Only institutional QIBs can buy chips at this time, and we ordinary investors are powerless!

I will stop talking about these topics today. I will not continue to talk about them. I am afraid that I will be hurt. I will only tell you the logic and the reason why they are not rising. There are more than 7,000 listed companies in the Indian stock market, and IPOs are continuously issued every week. However, in the recent stock market, less than 100 stocks have risen by more than 5% every day. This is a very poor market performance. What should we do next? This is the topic that everyone is most concerned about!

I will give you an example, and you will understand my intention!

Currently, the loss is 10%, or even 20% or more. If we hold it for a month, our loss will become 1% or 3% or even realize profit! I am thinking about a question. Everyone is willing to wait for this month. I believe that most of the friends in the group are willing to wait for this month!

So I will give you a positive answer now. Currently, holding and waiting is the best strategy. After Trump takes office to stimulate the US stock market, the Indian stock market will rise next. Waiting time, time will give us a beautiful scenery along the way.
